Note 1: The derivative financial assets held by the Group include forward foreign exchange contracts, foreign exchange option contracts and interest rate swap contracts, which are not designated as hedging instruments.

Gains or losses arising from changes in fair value of the derivative financial assets were directly recognized in profit or loss of the current period. Financial assets measured at fair value through current profit and loss were reclassified to held-for-trading financial assets on January 1st 2019.

Note 2: In its daily capital management, the Group endorses or discounts some of its bank acceptance notes. The business model for managing the aforesaid notes receivable is for the purposes of obtaining contractual cash flows and sale. Therefore, on January 1st 2019, the Group reclassified such notes receivable as financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income, and presented as receivables for financing.

Note 3: On January 1st 2019, some of the equity investments held by the Group were reclassified as financial assets at fair value through profit and loss of current period and presented as other non-current financial assets.

Note 4: The derivative financial liabilities held by the Group include forward foreign exchange contracts and foreign exchange option contracts, which are not designated as hedging instruments. Gains or losses arising from changes in fair value of the derivative financial liabilities were directly recognized in profit or loss of the current period. Financial liabilities measured at fair value through current profit and loss were reclassified to held-for-trading financial liabilities on January 1st 2019.
